The author of this report would like to note that any errors or shortcomings in this work are his own responsibility. This report is primarily a document mapping the boundary stones and tracing their history and it is not intended to express any view on present landownership or boundaries. Furthermore, the numbering scheme for identifying the individual boundary stones is purely for the purposes of this report and has no bearing on ownership.

Abstract

This report is based on the results of a survey of the boundary stones on the Blisland Commons, Bodmin Moor, Cornwall and covers the parish of Blisland as well as parts of St Breward, Temple and St Neot.

The report records the distribution of these boundary stones and attempts to identify why, where and when they were erected. It also sets out to identify the letters and symbols on each stone with the names of landowners and local manors that they represented.

Furthermore it records the practical work that took place to re-erect fallen boundary stones, and name each common on a granite boulder. Finally, it also gives a summary of the associated school project, which included a field trip, classroom work and practical art work.

This project was funded by the Local Heritage Initiative.

The project team would like to express their thanks to:

The Local Heritage Initiative (LHI) is a national grant scheme to help local groups investigate, explain and care for their landscape, landmarks, traditions and culture. The LHI is run by the Countryside Agency and funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund and the Nationwide Building Society.

The landowners who have allowed access to their land to record and survey the boundary stones, Lady I Molesworth St Aubyn, Mr. E. C. Holman, Imerys, Mr. W. M. and Mrs. M. M. Rowe, Mr. A Mansfield, Mr. C. J. Rush, Mr. R. and Mrs S. Grace, Mr. K. Prout, Mr. C. Halls and Mrs. F. Walkey.

The volunteers who have braved the weather to help survey and seek out hidden boundary stones also assisted in re-erecting the fallen ones, David Attwell, Martyn Diamond, Graham Montague, Paddy Mc Shee, Catherine Mc Shee, Jan Chivers, John Blake, Joan Webb, Sally Buts, Eva Buts, Ruben Buts, Mair Attwell, Colin Blackmore, Ann Preston-Jones and Emma Langdon.

In particular, to Peter Davies who was responsible for surveying the Commons and David Attwell, for organising the school's element of the project, without them this project would not have been successful

To Ann Preston-Jones for all her patience reading through, discussing, editing and comments on a draft of this report.

To Ann Reynolds, Archaeologist, Historic Environment Service, Cornwall County Council for the tremendous help in providing maps of all the areas of common land covered in this report and for the general support given by the Historic Environment Service.

To those who gave their support to the project, provided information, or were consulted, Ann Preston-Jones and Peter Herring, Senior Archaeologists, Historic Environment Service, Cornwall County Council., North Cornwall District Council, Angela Broome, Librarian, The Courtney Library, The Royal Institution of Cornwall, Iain Mackelworth, Cornwall Enterprise, Cornwall County Council, Staff of the Cornwall Family History Society, Peter Ludgate, Chairman of Blisland Parish Council and Councillors, Denis Lusby, Chairman St Breward Parish Council and councillors, also Mr Lusby as editor of the Community Magazine for the parishes of Blisland, with Temple, St Breward and Helland, Robert Berreton, Savilles, Land Agents for the Molesworth Estate, Sir William Molesworth of Pencarrow, John Tonkin and Derek Giles, members of St Austell China Clay History Society, Mrs Pamela Bousfield, Local Historian, St Breward.

To the headteacher and staff of Blisland School and the staff of the Art department at Bodmin Community School.

For Practical help, to Mr James Bowman, Agent for the Highways Agency and his team.
